RUSSIA WITHDRAWS DEMAND UN SCUTTLE VETO DEBATE

FUND DRIVE HITS $24,038 ON 1ST REPORT

Workers Return to Field To Meet Quotas by Next Wednesday.

Foundation goal	$67,190.00
Reported last night .	$24,038.36
To be raised	$43,151.64

Four days of real honest-to-goodness hustling on the part of the volunteer workers in the Marion Community Foundation's campaign chalked up the sum of $24,038.36 in cool cash and pledges on the big blackboard at the first report meeting last night in the Masonic temple. The figures represent 35¾ per cent of the goal of $67,190 set by the foundation to finance the 1947 programs of the Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Girl Reserves, Y. M. C. A. and the Hospitalization and Medical care fund and contribute Marion county's share in the support of two national services, the USO and the United Seamen's organization.

Workers Enthusiastic

It was a serious but hopeful crowd of some 50 or more workers that walked into the dining hall, a feeling shared by E. L. Cleveland, president of the foundation, and John J. Stafford, chairman for the campaign. It was a confident and enthusiastic band that left the meeting a little more than an hour later, and judging from reports and "off the record" conversations, the next and scheduled final report meeting set for next Wednesday night will "ring the bell."

In talks preceding the reports both Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Stafford emphasized that the job of raising the 1947 quota is a real one. "If we can't raise $67,190 for these worthy agencies there is something definitely wrong with our community," Mr. Cleveland stated. If tonight's reports are not up to our expectations, the only thing to do is to try that much harder, he added.

Pointing out that the biggest task lies ahead, Mr. Stafford said that Marion city and county's quota is less than $2 per capita and commented that "this is a responsibility we should be able to shoulder."

"More to come in," "only scratched the surface," "we'll go over the top at the next report," and similar encouraging promises accompanied many of last night's reports.

First To Meet Quota

First to report having reached its quota was the Fairfield Engineering Co. where the company and employes contributed a total of $1,584, with "a few more subscriptions to come in." The commercial division reported 69 per cent of its quota reached and the workers are sure they will exceed their goal. In the utilities and transportation division The Star, with contributions in the amount of $1,122, was the only firm reported as having reached its quota.

The following are the divisions, quotas and amounts reported at last night's meeting:

Large industries: quota $23,110, reported $8,881.36; small industries: quota $5,680, reported $600; utilities and transportation: quota $7,500, reported $3,079; national stores: quota $4,100, reported $320; commercial: quota, $11,000, reported $7,583.50; government: quota $2,000, reported $256; schools: quota $1,000, reported $399; general: $8,800, reported $82,919.50. No report was made on the county which has a quota of $4,000.

Dinner music was furnished by Miss Virginia Grover and Hugh Hay led in a community sing. The invocation was spoken by Rev. Claire T. Crenshaw, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Dinner favors were corsages of red feathers and greenery for the women and feather boutonnieres for the men.

Finds Mail Can't Be Sent from Fire Box

A woman attempted to mail a letter in fire box No. 8 at Center and State streets today at 9:27 a. m., setting off the alarm and summoning engine companies one and four to the scene.

Firemen said the woman stood at the scene until the fire trucks arrived and then walked into a nearby store. She apparently was "embarrassed," firemen said.

Similar incidents happen once or twice tvery year, Fire Chief Owen Sifritt said. The alarm is set off after the knob on the inner door of the fire box is pulled down.

BATTLE OF HEAVYWEIGHTS —The nation's newest coal controversy pits "Cap" J. A. Krug, above, a 223-pound newcomer, against John L. Lewis, right, 210-pound veteran of many campaigns. Secretary of the Interior Krug is 38 while chief of the United Mine Workers is 66, but capital observers are counting nothing on the age difference as the two take their corners for the crisis that will arise if the miners make good their called strike for Nov. 1.

Columbus Transport Strike Ends Today

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25—The 25-day old streetcar and bus strike in Columbus ended today when the Transport Workers Union (CIO) and the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company agreed to arbitrate their differences over wages and other matters.

Transportation service, M. L. Evans, vice-president of the streetcar company said, would be resumed this afternoon.

The strike ended when the union voted by acclamation to ratify an agreement between its officials and those of the company.

Evans said service this afternoon would be limited but expressed the opinion it would be completely restored tomorrow, provided storage batteries and equipment were found to be in good condition.

Earlier today Mayor James A. Rhodes had announced that company and union representatives had reached a tentative agreement to end the longest transportation strike in the history of Columbus.

The union struck for an increase in pay of 30 cents an hour and the company offered eight cents. A citizens committee appointed by Mayor Rhodes recommended a 14-cents an hour increase after negotiations collapsed.

Both industry and commerce were crippled by the strike because of the inability of workers, shoppers and the pleasure seeking public to get into the center of the city. The transportation system serves approximately 300,000 persons daily.

Motorists were permitted to park indefinitely wherever they could find a place without getting police tickets, because they were taking others to and from their work.

The union and the company had agreed to proposals of 12-cent-an-hour increases for workers during arbitration of a company offer of 10 cents and a union demand for at least 14 cents of an original 30 cents asked. But they had not been able to arrive at a mutually satisfactory decision as to the method of arbitration or the issues to be arbitrated. The citizens' committee concentrated its attention on these problems in a session lasting past midnight.

Traffic Safety Campaign To End Here Saturday

Seventh and final traffic contact period in the Marion County Safety Council's pedestrian safety drive will be held Saturday afternoon.

A group of Exchange club members under direction of Merle Beekman and a safety patrol from St. Mary High school will assist Safety Council members in passing out tickets to jay-walkers and drivers violating traffic rules in the downtown section.

Those participating will meet at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

23 NAZI DOCTORS TO FACE MURDER COUNT

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Germany, Oct. 25 — Twenty-three Nazi doctors were indicted today on charges that they "murdered hundreds of thousands of human beings" in Germany's war-time program of medical killings and brutal experiments with living prisoners.

A woman, Herta Oberhauser, and Dr. Karl Brandt, one of Hitler's personal physicians, were among the 23, who will be tried next month in the first of a series of war crimes trials by special American military courts.

Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor, chief counsel for the courts, said between 250 and 500 former Nazi military, industrial, financial and governmental leaders would be arraigned during the trials, which are expected to last through 1947.

OFFER WORK RETURN

START VOTE COUNT IN OPS ELECTION

Marion Employes Participate in NLRB Balloting.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 25—The national labor relations board today began a count of ballots in a bargaining agency election involving 850 employes of the Ohio Public Service Co. in 12 Ohio cities.

The workers voted yesterday in six separate elections and chose between the CIO-Utility Workers of America and the AFL-International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Officials of the company and both unions acted as observers as the NLRB counted the ballots. Results were not expected to be available until late today.

Two elections involved power plant employes at Warren and Marion. Two others were for linemen at Warren and Marion. Power plant employes at Alliance, Lorain, Mansfield, Sandusky, Port Clinton, Bellevue, Vermilion, Elyria, Ashland and Massillon also voted while line crews in the same cities cast their ballots in another election.

A dispute between the two unions was one of the factors in a strike of the company's employes at Warren a few weeks ago.

COAL CRISIS DISCUSSED BY TRUMAN AIDES

Cabinet Debates Threatened Strike; Clark "Analyzing" Contract.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—The threatened coal crisis was brought up at President Truman's cabinet meeting today and Attorney General Clark later said his office is "analyzing" the government's contract with John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers.

Clark told reporters that while he had not been asked to study the contract, "we always analyze those things so we will be ready if called upon."

The contract was negotiated last May after the government seized the idle soft coal mines.

Secretary of War Patterson said in response to questions merely that the coal situation had been "mentioned" at the 40-minute cabinet session.

Later Clark was asked how much time was devoted to the subject of coal.

He replied that the only discussion of the matter was that it is in the hands of Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug and Reconversion Director John R. Steelman.

Now On Tour

Krug is now on a western tour that is not scheduled to end until Nov. 6, the day after election.

Lewis has demanded reopening of the existing wage agreement and has served notice that the pact will be "void" unless the negotiations begin Nov. 1. The federal coal mines administration has taken the stand that the contract is good for the duration of government operation of the mines.

When a reporter asked if Mr. Truman was optimistic about the outlook on coal, Clark said that the President had not indicated whether he is or not.

John L. Lewis' threat of a new soft coal strike this winter loomed larger than ever today—one week before the Nov. 1 deadline.

Both Parties Silent

President Truman tossed the prospective crisis back to Secretary of Interior J. A. Krug, who remained silent. So did Lewis.

Government labor officials, growing more anxious by the hour, privately expressed the opinion that another round of strikes would bring down the wrath of congress and might provoke severe labor legislation when the lawmakers return in January.

Two facts, the officials said, stand out:

1. Members elected to congress on Nov. 5 will be seated in January.

2. Many of the nation's leaders have warned that a "second round of strikes would be a body blow to the postwar economy.

Supplies To Drop Immediately

Meanwhile, coal industry spokesmen in Pittsburgh said a general mine strike next month would cut off home supplies of coal almost immediately.

Coal retailers already are behind with orders, the industry said, and a work stoppage would catch them with little or no stockpiles.

While Krug and Lewis stood pat—apparently miles apart on the moot question of whether the United Mine Workers' chief can reopen the whole issue of wages and hours or merely discuss the way the present government contract is being interpreted, southern operators expressed a willingness to talk to Lewis after a long period of silence.

Mr. Truman's refusal at his news conference yesterday to be dragged into the coal controversy handed a political as well as an economic hot potato back to Krug, who made the contract with Lewis which ended last spring's strike.

Soft coal miners have worked under that agreement all summer,

Bright Spots Appear on U. S. Labor Front

Coal Threat Remains but Other Walkouts May Be Settled Soon.

By The Associated Press

The threat of a shutdown of the nation's soft coal mines remained today but there were a few bright spots on the labor front.

One strike nearly six months old involving 900 workers at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. plant at La Cross, Wis., was ended and there were indications of breaks in the national maritime walkout, the work stoppage by Trans-World Airline pilots and in the AFL jurisdictional dispute in the Hollywood movie studios.

The ending of the walkout at the Allis-Chalmers plant at La Crosse left only two of the company's factories still strike-bound, in Milwaukee, the firm's largest, and Boston. Strikes at the company's plants in La Porte, Ind., Springfield, Ill., Norwood, O., and Pittsburgh already have been settled. The CIO industrial union at La Crosse ratified a contract providing a 13½ cent wage increase and other changes.

Settlement in Balance

Settlement on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts of the strike of deck officers hinged upon acceptance of a new proposal made to ship operators by the AFL Masters, Mates and Pilots unions. A spokesman at the negotiations in New York did not disclose the proposal but said its acceptance would settle the 25-day-old walkout. Wages and preferential hiring were the chief issues in the dispute.

The CIO Marine Engineers, the second union involved in the shipping strike, awaited results of voting on ratification of an agreement reached earlier this week to settle their dispute. However, they pledged to respect AFL picket lines even if they ratify their own pact.

In the five-day-old strike by 1,400 TWA pilots, which has made idle some 15,000 company employes, company and officials of the AFL Air Line Pilots association resumed discussion in Washington before the national mediation board. The pilots are demanding wage increases and revised working rules.

ASHLEY MAN'S BODY FOUND ALONG TRACKS

Dow Chadwick Hit by Fast N.Y.C. Train.

Special to The Star

ASHLEY, Oct. 25—The body of Dow Chadwick, 72, was found at the New York Central railroad tracks near his home, two miles south of here, about 2 a. m. today after a train crew member had telephoned to Ashley that a fast train had struck a man. The call came to J. H. Rutledge, railroad station agent here, and the section foreman and sheriff's office were called. It is thought that Mr. Chadwick was walking on the tracks when he was struck. Since his wife died about two months ago, he had shared his home with another aged man. He was a farmer in Ashley township. Surviving are a son, Charles Chadwick of Ashley, and two grandchildren. Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. in the C. R. Lee funeral home here by Rev. H. L. Borden, pastor of the Methodist church. Burial will be in Green Mound cemetery at Kilbourne.

Man Hurt in 3-Car Crash Near Waldo

Clyde Bohan, 27, of 377½ Park street is in City hospital today suffering from deep lacerations of his left thigh following a three-car collision on route 23 just north of Waldo this morning at 6:20.

The state highway patrol reported that Bohan's car, northbound, collided with a small trailer which was being pulled by a car driven by Curtis E. Ward, 25, of 736 East Center street.

The accident occurred, the patrol said, when the trailer southbound, buckled as Ward stopped suddenly to avoid a car which had pulled out of a drive. The trailer swung into the northbound lane. The tongue went through the left side of the Bohan car's hood, pierced the dash board and struck Bohan.

The car which emerged from the drive was driven by James F. Edwards, 41, of Waldo.

The accident occurred on pavement slippery from rain. Bohan was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist. Bohan's car was considerably damaged but the other two only slightly.

OPPOSITION OF U. S., BRITAIN BRINGS SWITCH

Entire Question Now Open To Discussion by General Assembly.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Confronted with strong opposition led by the United States and Great Britain, Soviet Russia today withdrew her demand that the veto question be excluded from discussion in the United Nations assembly.

After hearing almost unanimous opposition to his motion to strike the veto issue from the assembly's provisional agenda, Soviet representative Andrei Y. Vishinsky announced that he was withdrawing his proposal in the interest of "unanimity."

He told the 14-nation general (steering) committee that he felt it his duty, however, to warn both the committee and the assembly that discussion of the controversial issue could lead to "no practical results."

He described the move to bring up the veto question as "a political attack against essential principles of the charter," and declared that Russia "will not insist on exclusion of the items from the agenda," and "will not object to their discussion" in the assembly.

He said, however, that he felt compelled to put the committee "on guard" and to warn that it was entering "dangerous" ground.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, declared that any change in the veto provisions of the Un charter would be "a heavy blow" to the new world organization.

In a brief statement before the 14-nation committee, the Soviet representative referred to Australian and Cuban proposals for a thorough discussion of the veto issue, with a view to restricting its use of eliminating it entirely.

Vishinsky said that unanimity was "the basis of solidarity" in the security council. He then said that "in the spirit of solidarity" Russia called on the committee to join in eliminating the veto question from the discussions.

British Oppose

Sir Hartley Shawcross, British attorney general, immediately took the floor to oppose the Soviet demand.

The committee held its first session on approving the program of 53 issues, plus a supplemental list, last night, but became involved in a legalistic snarl over a row between India and South Africa and failed to get to the veto dispute.

Finally Settled

The India-South Africa fight was settled only after Britain's Sir Hartley Shawcross asserted hotly that "we are in danger of reducing this committee to a laughingstock" by failing to decide a relatively minor question.

Meanwhile the assembly itself was pushing forward through a lengthy general debate which today was scheduled to include addresses by Philip Noel-Baker of Britain, Jose Arce of Argentina, Dr. Carlos Stolk of Venezuela and Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit of India.

There was some expectation that Noel-Baker's speech—setting forth Britain's policies for this session of the peace organization—might present directly to the assembly recently expressed British government views favoring eventual modification of the big-five veto power.

To Present Charges

Mrs. Pandit was understood to be prepared to present India's charges of racial discrimination against Indians in South Africa, even in advance of formal action on that issue by the steering committee. In general debate a speaker may talk about anything he wants to.

American delegation officials said they assumed that since the Indian item was the only one on the 53-point program which had been challenged, the steering committee had now to submit completed its approval of the entire agenda.

One of the items is Monday de-

Crawford Union Wins in Bucyrus Bargaining Vote

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—The Crawford Steel Foundry Co. union has been certified as collective bargaining agent for employes of the Bucyrus, O., firm, the national labor relations board announced today.

The board reported that in an election Sept. 16 at the foundry company 134 of 189 eligible voters selected the Crawford Steel Foundry Co. union and 31 voted for the CIO. Subsequent objections to the election by the CIO were overruled Oct. 4 by the regional director of the NLRB.

A strike was called at the company on Feb. 11, when 190 members of the United Steel Workers of America (CIO) walked out. On March 20, approximately 125 employes returned to the plant during the early morning before picket lines had formed and remained in the plant night and day for more than a week. The strike terminated finally with the return of all employes pending the national labor relations board election.

INDUSTRIAL GOODS TO BE DECONTROLLED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Many industrial products as well as some clothing are next in line for decontrol, Deputy Price Chief C. Dean McNeal said today.

Asserting that a "master list" of goods slated to be freed of ceiling tags already is on OPA Boss Paul Porter's desk, McNeal added to reporters:

"We hope to have it ready by Nov. 1, but we may not complete the work then."

Porter's deputy said small radios, some linens and scores of other items have been put on the master list tentatively. He added that large cabinet type radios and such things as refrigerators, washing machines and similar heavy goods may have to remain under ceilings for three months or longer.

Effective today, OPA removed price ceilings from these miscellaneous items it classed as "unimportant" to living costs:

Stepladders, optical goods, hand-wound phonographs, kits of electronic equipment sold for assembly into record players, amplifiers, microphones, loud speakers and similar devices; motors; hand-operated washing machines; non-electrical food choppers and juicers; lanterns, mantel lamps and hurricane lamps that use oil, kerosene or gasoline; and carving and kitchen knives and forks.

REP. SMITH SPEAKS IN LARUE, BUCYRUS

Addresses Business Men and Republican Rally.

Congressman Frederick C. Smith spoke in LaRue and Bucyrus last night.

He addressed the LaRue Businessmen's club at the regular meeting and warned the group that "it should be perfectly clear to every farmer in America what is actually in the minds of those in control of our government in Washington, after the President purposely or otherwise admitted in his speech announcing the decontrol of meat that 'long and serious consideration has been given to the government seizing from farms and ranges the cattle for slaughter'

He said "that is un-American, that is what the Communists did in Russia to enslave the Russian people and to starve millions upon millions of Russians."

"Communism is a definite problem in America today," the congressman said, "and it should be apparent to everyone what the situation is in this respect when the Moscow radio brazenly announces which members of congress should be elected and defeated."

To an outdoor Herbert-Bricker-Smith Republican rally crowd of 600 in Bucyrus Cong. Smith said the problem confronting the American people today transcends party lines and the question is a matter of the American system against Communism.

If the United States is completely Communized it will not be because of the efforts of the Communist party, the Sidney Hillmans, Earl Browders or Harry Bridges—instead it will be because of the Communistic laws passed by the United States congress. He branded the United Nations completely Communistic and said that UN was attempting to do throughout the world what the Communists had accomplished in Russia, Europe and this country.

with the mine owners as managers. The operators won't all agree to the Krug-Lewis terms, and so the government continued to run the mines.

Lewis has demanded that Krug start negotiating a new contract Nov. 1 because he alleges the government breached the present one with "misinterpretations." He is preparing new wage demands in keeping with resolutions of the miners' recent convention.

Because Krug did not agree to meet him in Washington Nov 1 to discuss a new contract, Lewis said the document, which he had prepared to terminate Nov. 20, would be void three weeks earlier. Krug has been on tour of government projects in the west and southwest.

"Miserable Time" In Store, Bowles Says

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Oct. 25 — The United States is in for "a very miserable time" because of the dropping of most OPA controls, former OPA Administrator Chester Bowles says.

Addressing a Democratic rally last night, he asserted, however, that price control lasted long enough to stave off "economic disaster."

"Fortunately, the Republicans were not able to muster enough force to kill OPA earlier," Bowles said "Disaster from inflation would have followed had controls been removed a year ago"

"The Republicans plan to sabotage the whole New Deal program if they can and I know from personal experience how they can sabotage," Bowles added

WALLACE SPEAKS AT LOS ANGELES

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Oct 25—Henry A Wallace, in his first speech since Sept 12—when an address in Madison Square Garden on the international situation brought his retirement from the cabinet—asserted last night that "the forces of reaction.. can only be checked by an enlightened, progressive Democratic party."

Speaking before a capacity crowd of 10,400 in Olympic auditorium, Wallace moved squarely into the tight California political situation, urging the election of Will Rogers Jr, "great son of a great father" and defeat of incumbent Republican William F Knowland, whom he called any exponent of "Taftism"

"I want to make five things clear," Wallace told cheering supporters

"First, I am a Democrat

"Second, more than ever before I am a progressive.

"Third I am very happy that the prospects for a peaceful world have brightened greatly during the past month

"Fourth, I want to do everything I can to elect progressive Democrats to congress

"Fifth, if the Democrats fail to control the 80th congress, there is only one way in which they can get control back again and that is by becoming more progressive"

mand that United Nations members—meaning specifically Britain and the United States—should report on how many troops they have outside their own territories on other than ex-enemy soil. The United States fought a similar proposal in the security council several weeks ago but let it pass unchallenged last night.

The veto issue was raised in formal proposals put forward by Cuba and Australia to curb the power of the big-five nations (America, Britain, France, China and Russia) in the security council by amending the United Nations charter

American and British delegates argue, on the other hand, that none of the powers has a right to block discussion in the assembly and that anyway a veto debate might do some good in building up moral force against misuse of the power

All sides agree that there is no chance of altering the veto provisions of the charter at this time Any amendment is itself subject to the veto, and the United States as well as Russia is opposed to such a step now

KANSAS CITY, Oct 25—Mrs Fred Bowers continued to insist today that her 11-year-old son would be up and running around soon as the boy smilingly supported her faith that the Lord would cure him of infantile paralysis without medical aid.

Both his legs and right arm are paralyzed but Philip Bowers smiled through his bedroom window as he posed for pictures and reported he felt "fine" His mother said he was "100 per cent" better and that within a few days "the Lord will take him by the hand and tell him to rise and walk"

Three days ago city health officials gave Philip three days to live unless he was placed in a respirator and given medical attention. Members of the In the Name of Jesus church to which Mrs Bowers and her four sons belong have been praying "almost constantly" for Philip since he was stricken 11 days ago. The other three boys have not contracted the disease

WYATT SEEKS LOAN FOR PREFAB FIRMS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct 25—Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt is seeking to prime the prefabrication industry with $54,000,000 worth of federal loans in a drive to get factory-built homes rolling from assembly lines

Disclosing this to a reporter today, an official of the national housing agency said Wyatt sent letters of recommendation for 11 firms to the reconstruction finance corporation within the last week.

The loans are designed to spur the most conspicuously lagging phase of the veterans' housing program — a pre-fab campaign which apparently will provide only 40,000 homes this year instead of the 250,000 set as the original 1946 goal.

The NHA official said that if the 11 concerns seeking federal aid come through, along with other pre-fab producers, the chances are good for meeting the 1947 goal of 600,000 factory-built dwellings. This is two-fifths of the entire 1947 housing target of 1,500,000 homes started

Wyatt's aides are confident that RFC will approve the bulk of the requests. The loan agency itself was non-committal, but a spokesman said action is possible within a matter of days if sufficient data accompanied the loan requests.

DOCTOR KILLS WIFE AND MOTHER-IN-LAW

By The Associated Press

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Oct 25—A prominent New York doctor shot and killed his wife and mother-in-law today and then wounded his navy veteran son and himself, Nassau County District Attorney James N Gehrig said.

The district attorney said he believed Dr. Frank H. Lasher committed the act in disappointment over his son's failure to resume medical studies because of war inflicted casualties.

The dead were Dr. Lasher's wife, Gladys, about 45, and her mother, Mrs Emma Bryan, 75.

Douglas Lasher, the 21-year-old son, was taken to Nassau hospital in Mineola with a bullet wound in his chest. He was expected to recover Police said the 60-year-old doctor was in Meadowbrook hospital in Hempstead in "extremely critical" condition as the result of four bullet wounds

Gehrig said the son told detectives he awoke to find his father standing in his bedroom with a 22 calibre rifle in his hand. The doctor, who for 20 years has been a surgeon on the staff of the Brooklyn eye and ear hospital, shot him in the chest, the district attorney said the son related.

CHURCHILL, ATTLEE AGREE ON RUSSIA

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Oct. 25 — Winston Churchill and Prime Minister Attlee captured Britain's headlines today with almost simultaneous verbal blasts against Russia in what appeared to be shaping up as a solid British front against Communism.

Churchill told his constituents in suburban Loughton last night that he had "facts" and "evidence" to support his suggestion —made in the form of a question before the house of commons Wednesday—that the Soviet Union now has 200 divisions—more than 2,000,000 men—on a full war footing in Russian-occupied Eastern Europe

He lauded Attlee's speech before the traces union congress at Brighton earlier in the day in which the prime minister bluntly accused Soviet leaders of erecting a "wall of ignorance and suspicion" between the Russian people and the rest of the world

"The fact that the British government have decisively broken with the Communists and are fronted with them, although it does not immediately affect the course of affairs in this island," said Churchill, "has an important and beneficial result abroad, because there are countries on the continent—like France—quivering under the Communist attack

'Nor did I ask the question without informing the government before hand of my intentions but you can take it from me that the facts I adduced are correct"

Government spokesmen remained resolutely silent with regard to Churchill's embarrassing inquiry, but some sections of the press were increasingly critical of the wartime prime minister's methods

"'What ought not to be done,' said the Daily Mirror, "is to state (Britain's differences with Russia) In the form of insult and innuendo as Mr Churchill was inclined to do 25 years ago and is doing again today"

Halloween Strange but Germans Catching On

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Writer.

BERLIN, Oct. 25.—Halloween is a strange American festival to German children, but about 700 of them are learning about it at a youth club being run here by three American soldiers.

The clubhouse is a rambling, turreted German house in the borough of Zehlendorf. Its 17 rooms are filled with clay equipment, musical instruments, books and handicraft articles.

There five enlisted men of the 3110th Service Battalion hold open house for club members, aged eight to 20 years, daily from 9 a. m. to about 10:30 p. m.

Head men of the quintet are Sgt. Earl Albers of Crab Orchard, Neb., and Corp. Asa Blackburn of Toronto, Ohio. They are the program arrangers and their programs calls for special parties on holidays and festivals.

One of these is Halloween.

Don't Have Halloween.

"The kids here celebrate Christmas just as we do, and you can hear them practicing carols now," said Blackburn. "But they don't know about Halloween and it isn't easy to explain this American day. We are doing it by translating stories about the day.

"Any pumpkin in gardens in Berlin gets eaten, so we are making jack o' lanterns of cardboards. We've got the candles and we are going to get apples for apple-dunking.

"We are telling the kids about costumes and blackface and, yes, about Halloween pranks, too, and we hope to have them visit the homes of some American dependents near here and have American kids visit the club.

"We only hope no one gets the idea of putting the major's jeep on the garage roof. But even if they did, the major probably wouldn't get sore. It would only prove the kids at the club are learning to play the game—maybe a bit too fast, but learning, and that's what counts."

Learn Other Games.

They are learning other games, too—softball and volleyball—on school playfields near the club.

"The German youngsters used to play softball quietly, just standing there and pitching and batting," said Blackburn, "but now they talk it up just as lively as any bunch of American kids."

In the club's library Wild West and adventure stories are favored. American comic books also go over big.

Arrangements now are being made for club members to become "pen pals" with Boy Scout groups in American towns.

The other three soldiers active in running the club are T/5 May Friesen of Hampton, Neb., and Pfc. Tutomu Yoshioka and Pfc. George Shigenaga, who are from Hawaii. All except Friesen have joined the regular army and expect to be here another 20 months.

STILL IN JAIL — One of three to be acquitted at the Nuernberg war crimes trials, Hjalmar Schacht is shown in a German jail at Stuttgart, where he is being held pending denazification proceedings. The former financial wizard was arrested when he left the Nuernberg jail.

JAMES LEADS OSU SQUAD.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25.—By amassing 106 yards in the 14-14 Purdue standstill Saturday, halfback Tommy James of Massillon hiked his lead in total offense for the Ohio State university Bucks to 321 yards—207 by rushing and 114 passing. Although he made no catches Saturday, Cecil (Cy) Souders, veteran Bucyrus end, protected his pass receiving lead. He has grabbed four flips for 84 yards.

4 COLLEGE GRIDDERS TO FACE HEARINGS NOV. 4

Will Learn Penalty for Mt. Vernon Night Club Row.

MT. VERNON, O., Oct. 25—Four Kenyon college gridders, on whom two sheriff's deputies said they blew the horn for "interference" during a night club scrimmage, must wait until Nov. 4 to learn the penalty, if any, on the alleged play.

Charged with resisting and interfering with officers at the Sunset club Wednesday midnight, the football players and two other men students were scheduled for a hearing Nov. 4 in the court of Justice of the Peace Albert L. Swank, who released them on bond of $200 each after hearing their pleas of innocent yesterday.

The bonds were signed by Dr. Gordon K. Chalmers, president of Kenyon, located at nearby Gambier, and G. E. Worley, a Mt. Vernon merchant.

The football players were Bert Fulton and Richard Paisley of Lakewood, David M. Dana of Kewaunee, Wis., and William Funke of Cincinnati. The other two students were David B. Pauley of Cincinnati and Paul Newman of Shaker Heights. All are 21 except Dana, who is 20.

Deputy Paul Cochran said he and Deputy Donald Vernon attempted to arrest Fulton after John Hergatt, the night club manager, had complained of a fight. Cochran said Fulton defied them from the middle of the dance floor and other youths knocked the deputies to the floor when they tried to seize Fulton.

ELDERLY OHIO COUPLE ABDUCTED AND BEATEN

Tell Police Two Men Take Over Their Car.

By The Associated Press

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Oct. 25—An elderly couple from Convoy, Ohio, was being treated in a hospital here today after police said they were abducted and beaten and the woman raped twice by two Negroes.

Sheriff Walter Adams said the couple, Alfred Sherrick, 83-year-old Convoy jeweler, and his wife, Sylvia, 70, told him their car was forced to the side of a road by another car as they drove toward Convoy from Van Wert, O., last night.

The sheriff quoted the couple as saying the Negroes left their own car by the side of the road, entered the Sherrick car and started driving toward Indiana.

Mrs. Sherrick said the men made her ride in the front seat and that during a 20-mile ride each man raped her once the sheriff reported, and her husband was ordered to ride in the back seat.

Sheriff Adams said Sherrick suffered a fractured nose when one of the men struck him with the butt of a gun. Mrs. Sherrick also was beaten and suffered from shock. The couple reported the men took $25 from them.

The sheriff said Mrs. Sherrick told him the men drove into a filling station at the edge of Fort Wayne to get gasoline and that she grabed the ignition keys, jumped from the car and shouted: "This is a holdup." She said the two men then left the car and fled.

Two-Party System Still Works

THIS is a statement of The Marion Star's position in the 1946 election.

We believe Ohio should send John W. Bricker to the U. S. senate because he has earned the honor and because the state needs the kind of service he would give it.

We believe Ohio would profit by the election of Thomas J. Herbert to the governorship. Mr. Herbert would be a capable executive, well qualified to work with the Republican majorities which will be continued in both houses of the general assembly.

We believe the state's administrative organization should continue to have the benefit of two such able members as Don H. Ebright, Ohio treasurer, and Hugh S. Jenkins, the state's attorney general.

We believe the next lieutenant governor should be Paul M. Herbert The secretary of state should be Edward J. Hummel, present holder of that position.

George H Bender, congressman-at-large, should be reelected.

In this district, the Eighth Ohio, Frederick C. Smith should be kept on the job. In his service as congressman he has always opposed the unsound and impractical economic policies of the New Deal and advocated freedom from governmental dictation and control in business and industry as the surest route to sustained prosperity for both employers and employes. His unalterable belief is that in our international relations, the interests and welfare of the United States completely overshadow all else and that this country must never yield even the minutest fraction of its sovereignty.

These men are Republicans. We believe there is urgent need in this election to replace incumbent Democrats with Republicans in all policy-making positions and to keep incumbent Republicans where they are.

In the United States we rely on a two-party system to give us the kind of government we need.

This means that when the people get tired of the kind of government they've been having, they transfer responsibility and go on from there.

The ins are turned out, and outs are put in—a procedure that has given Americans more political stability than any other civilization ever attained. The United States has a built-in safety valve to relieve political pressure.

The principal business of the 1946 election is to transfer responsibility from the Democratic party to the Republican party—and go on from there. It is time to use the safety valve to relieve political pressure.

THE success of the two-party system in the past has been in the clarity of the alternatives it offered the people. In 1932, for example, when the country was in turmoil, a Republican administration was relieved of responsibility, and a Democratic administration replaced it.

That transfer had been preceded by transfers of responsibility in states, in congressional districts and in local communities.

There was a relatively clear distinction at that time between Republican conservatism and the alternative offered by the Democratic party. That was because the Democratic party still had definitive character. It had not yet gone to bed with Socialists, Communists and a baker's dozen of other minority groups The people still knew what it was.

After 1932 there came into existence a whatizzit called the New Deal coalition. There ceased to be a Democratic party. Democrats now are only one segment of a weird conglomeration as hard to figure out as restaurant hash.

To call this mixture a political party is to libel the party system. It is a blend of opportunists, a catch-all for 57 varieties of conflicting beliefs. Politics always has made strange bedfellows, but nothing so strange as the mesalliance of Democrats with Pendergasters, Communists and labor wings now bunched together in what's left of the New Deal.

A vote for a so-called Democratic candidate in 1946 is a blank check to be filled in by whatever minority finally gets the upper hand inside the New Deal coalition. No Democratic voter can be sure whether he is voting for Wallace or Byrnes, Truman or Kroll, Pepper or Connally, the hammer and sickle, or the night riders of Bilboism.

This condition is a travesty on a political party. Democrats themselves know this and admit it. They talk wistfully about cleaning house, separating sheep from goats and getting rid of wolves in Democrats' clothing.

Unfortunately, they are trapped by the expediency that betrayed their party in the first place. The are afraid of losing power if they try to save their party.

They tolerated the New Deal after the tail began to wag the party dog, because the New Deal was Franklin D. Roosevelt, and he could win votes. But the New Deal in the meantime adopted the radical minorities, and before long the hairs on the tail that was wagging the dog couldn't be dispensed with either.

The minorities have had the constant aim of taking over the whole shebang and have made more progress than bona fide Democrats like to think about. Many of them have taken a walk, and many more are on the way. The 1946 election is a preliminary showdown The big showdown is coming in 1948.

THE people are going to use the two-party system in the good, old-fashioned way, starting with local and state elections and reaching a climax two years from now.

In Ohio, the job already is more than half done. The state's 23-member congressional delegation now contains only six Democrats. Both Ohio senators were Republicans until Harold H. Burton went to the supreme court. Democrats are a minority in the general assembly.

The Star is a Republican newspaper. In its news columns, it makes no distinction between party members. Political news must be and shall be treated in nonpartisan fashion. But in its editorial policy, The Star exercises the right to hold a partisan opinion.

The time has come to get rid of the New Deal whatizzit, and to do what the Democratic party hasn't been able to do: namely, to sort out its minorities and let them stand on their own feet.

The two-party system still works There is still an alternative for citizens who've had enough.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Strangest Thing in Washington Is the Budget.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Strange things are done in Washington but the strangest is on the budget Actually Mr. Truman is economizing upward. He is cutting by increasing. He is saving by enlarging appropriations Actually! Honest!

The President took hold of the budget, you may remember, last Aug 2 It was a firm grip. The headlines said his grasp, or you might say, clutch, at the situation was "the greatest economy move since the Hoover administration" That economy upped the budget from $36 billions (yes billions) where it was left January to $41.5 billions, a saving which adds up backwards

That is all past history. Now we are in for some more economy—upward I mean. The press has been unofficially informed officially that the Navy budget is to be slashed $700,000,000 more than its original (August) $650,000,000 "slash" and "the presidential economy drive will be $1,350,000,000"

How Much More

They do not say how much more this will cost, but a check at the budget bureau will show you all economy is tending upward, and by this I do not mean to say enlarging, but merely costing more money than may be saved, Mr Truman, it is far more authoritatively said, in private, is limiting national defense (the largest budget item) to $13.2 billions, or $8 billions for the Army and $5.2 billions for the Navy. But unused balances of old appropriations give the services a total of about $22.9 billions, an amount about $9.7 billions more than the appropriated and officially suggested figure. The usual combined figure used for these services is about $18 billions, but these above stated come from budget authorities. Mr. Truman's cuts, "slashes," have been made in the unused balances of old budgets and not in the current appropriations, I am informed. This was the "slash" so widely advertised. Actually what the President did was to tell his Navy and War secretaries in a confidential letter to limit their expenditures further—meaning to the utmost in consonance with the necessities of their office.

Of course even with his economy upward he will still be spending more than $12 billions (yes billions) above the pre-war year of 1936 In those days, defense cost only $1.2 billions for both Army and Navy. (The Russian advertising of economy has not been added up here yet.)

Now this is not as surprising or confusing as it sounds. Actually the position of Mr. Truman's budget is somewhat like my own and yours. I am economizing, but it is costing me much more to live. I am forced to do the same thing he is doing, namely pay more for less, so much more that no matter how much I economize, my budget runs up.

Same Fix Generally

I wonder if the entire nation and the world is not in the same fix. The world talks of developing a high wage-high price level as ideal, and I agree it is not only ideal but a necessity. The strikes (and I do not mean the political CIO strikes against Dewey in Albany or the Lewis promised strike on the eve of election) only indicate a demand by unions to get ahead of the price fluctuating economy. Yet the unions are always dissatisfied with their last strike, and always planning a new one to get a new wage increase, which will force prices even higher and cause plans for a third strike they have not yet envisaged—but will

Now all this talk of budgets (like strikes) is silly in a fluctuating economy. What the budget needs is the same thing that the unions really need if they only knew it—namely a stable economy

Budgets are and will be loose and inexact in these days. Economy is simultaneously demanded (and may not be carried far enough) to keep the budget from running away with itself and to keep tax necessities down. But actually you cannot say that an expenditure will be limited to this or that exact figure below appropriations—not with any confidence. You may have to pay more or less than intended. You do not follow the dictates of people who know nothing of defense in such matters. You take the expert advice of those who know the subject—and use your own judgment.

In these considerations therefor I cannot find it in my heart to criticize Mr. Truman on the budget—and I cannot find anything except confusion in the budget bureau as you have seen. I recommend the country do the same thing I am doing—namely putting the budget into a secondary category and devoting myself primarily to the hope that the administration will establish a stabilized wage-price economy.

Then maybe someone may add up something and trust in the result.

A Shortage of Fat And That's No Lye

Scrambling for soap chips at a Binghamton, New York market, ket a 72-year old woman recently suffered a broken leg.

Thus realized were the worst fears of the president of Proctor and Gamble who, only three days earlier, had warned that the soap shortage is endangering the public health.

Day by day, the great unwashed are growing. Even those in the blue chips can't get the while. And then most widely seen fall color is tattle-tale gray.

They've even got a soap-shortage theme song: "Nurse me, Daddy, eight weeks to the bar."

Unfortunately, this is one shortage about which not even Republicans can work themselves into an effective lather.

Cleanliness used to be next to godliness. Now it's next to impossible.

Newswomen Disappointed

Not Much of Interest Told to Them at White House.

By JANE EADS
Associated Press Writer.

WASHINGTON—The number of newswomen attending the bi-weekly conferences held at the White House by Mrs Truman's secretaries is dwindling.

There just isn't enough news coming out of them to make them worth while.

The meetings are usually held in the Green room on the first floor of the executive mansion. The secretaries are Mrs. James M. Helm and Miss Reathal Odum.

There are too many "I don't knows" to questions the newswomen ask about things which would be of interest to the general public.

Most of the information that comes out of these conferences is a list of the First Lady's social engagements.

These are usually not world-shaking and are generally only of interest to local society editors.

At a recent conference we learned that fall house cleaning was just about completed. All the rooms on the first floor, soon to be reopened to sightseers as in the days before the war, have been getting a good going over.

No Small Undertaking.

We learned it's a big job waxing the floors, polishing the gilt and marble, cleaning the crystal, the mirrors, the rugs, draperies and upholstered chairs.

We learned that a member of the White House staff one day asked an usher why every so often the chairs in the state rooms had to be re-upholstered. Nobody ever sits on them.

Well, it seems sightseers are not satisfied with just gandering about. They want to touch things as well. And when you get as many as up to 10,000 sightseers a day caressing the backs and arms and seats of chairs and sofas the wear is appreciable.

If you get to Washington after they start the tours again you ought to look in at the White House. Guides will give you all the facts about the various rooms you may see.

Where the Family Lives.

Of course you won't be able to visit the second floor, where the family lives, and it isn't very likely you'll ever see the President or the First Lady or Margaret.

But you will be able to get a glimpse of the famous East room with its gilt piano, heavy chandeliers and soft colorings, the Green room, the Blue room, the Red room and the State dining room, where many of history's great people have dined with our presidents.

The family quarters on the second floor were redecorated when the Trumans moved into the White House. Bedrooms of each member of the family are accompanied by large sitting rooms.

There is a piano in the main sitting room at the end of the second floor corridor, and Margaret has one in her sitting room Both the President and his daughter keep them in condition by playing them whenever there's a free moment.

Queen Marie of Rumania, her son, Prince Nicholas and her daughter, Princess Ileane, left New York aboard a special train for California. The royal party spent the preceding night aboard the special train after attending a performance of "The Lily of Life," at the Metropolitan Opera house. The queen occupied J. Pierpont Morgan's box. Nearby boxes cost $1,000 to $5,000 each while the galleries were thronged with spectators who paid only 50 cents for admission.

A Problem for Byrnes

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—There is reason to hope that the return of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes will be the prelude to a new and vastly more constructive phase in American foreign policy. Thus far, our policy has tended to be too passive and defensive. American economic resources and political prestige have rarely been used in a postive manner, to promote economic and political health in the many troubled areas of the world where this country's interests are involved. The need for efficient machinery to do this job is a major problem on Byrnes' Washington agenda.

The idea of doing the job on a big scale has been in existence for some time, even though the mechanism has been lacking to give it effect. Byrnes himself was probably first aroused to the importance of economic measures by his unhappy experiences with UNRRA.

He has all along been more annoyed than any one else in the state department by such indefensible phenomena as large scale American financing of UNRRA aid to Yugoslavia at the moment of Marshal Tito's experimental attacks on American aircraft. He personally desired, at that time, to embargo further UNRRA shipments to Belgrade. This would indeed have been done, if Tito had not in the end reluctantly agreed to accept responsibility in writing and pay an indemnity to the dead flyers' families. The recent cancellation of the Czechoslovak credits is another manifestation of the same Byrnes' attitude.

Only One Side

But this, as Byrnes himself clearly recognizes, is only the negative side of the medal. It is, in truth, less important to avoid helping those who are unfriendly, than to assure the economic and political strength of nations on our side. And here, of course, a serious difficulty immediately arises. For example, successful Soviet penetration of Greece or China will deeply and adversely affect the interests of the United States. Yet it is wise to aid a regime which is rotten like that in Greece, or a government which is unsound like that in China? This question is mostly likely to be answered by providing aid in such cases when a serious effort is being made to put the house in order.

Economic assistance to Turkey and Greece is now under consideration. In the case of Greece, however, it is almost certain that the government of Premier Tsaldaris will have to be fundamentally reconstructed first. The need for reconstruction on a much broader and more progressive base has now been recognized by the British foreign office, which has more direct responsibility for the unhappy state of affairs at Athens. The western nations are all that protect Greece from immediate collapse under Soviet and Balkan puppet pressure Thus it may be assumed that American and British views will be listened to with some respect at Athens.

In fact, state department acceptance of the principle of safeguarding American interests by positive, constructive economic measures, is tied up with departmental acceptance of the corollary, that the best friends of the United States abroad are the leaders of the non-Communist left. Neither Byrnes nor his staff will advocate expensively propping up reactionary regimes all over the world, for the simple reason that such regimes are exceedingly bad investments.

No Additional Funds

It remains, meanwhile, to evolve machinery by which these principles can be applied broadly and continuously, rather than locally and in such emergencies as the cases of Turkey and Greece. There is no intention to ask Congress for additional funds for the purpose The resources of the Export-Import Bank and the World Bank (to which this country is the largest contributor) are regarded as entirely adequate to get the job going on a satisfactory scale. What is needed, rather, is a small study or policy group which will be charged with surveying the problem in all areas, including western Europe, the Middle East and the Far East, and preparing a well-weighed over-all program.

Probably such a group could either be selected among or attached to the technical staff of the National Advisory Council. This staff is already doing valuable and efficient work in reviewing the economic side of American foreign policy. Under Secretary of State William Clayton and Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman, who both sit on the council, are convinced of the soundness of the principles set forth above. Harriman, indeed, is one of those who have taken the lead in urging the importance of these principles on Byrnes. Once the study group had been organized and put to work, moreover, other problems would also have to be solved.

One such would be the relation between ourselves and the British. The theory of the program is strongly believed in at the foreign office. Yet when Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Dalton attended the opening of the World Bank he was conspicuously silent on the topic. Another problem would be the relation between the American and British governments and the World Bank itself. The bank president, the able Eugene Meyer,

Some Slogan Suggestions for Both Parties

BOTH major parties are in a lather in a hunt for winning slogans for the 1948 campaign. The Republicans, we understand, are trying to get the Democrats to choose "Two Fact-finders in every garage and a horse in every pot!" Or "Coming In On a Wing and a Neck!"

Be that as it may, this department is in the slogan industry and has for years turned them out in quantity production by or without request. It suggests that the Republicans go to the polls behind banners reading "Our Number One Plank: A Return to the Days When Teeth Were Essential in This Country!"

With the Democrats using "Maybe You Lost Weight Under Us, But It Wasn't From Calls for More Margin."

Further suggestions:

1—Tread Softly and Carry a Big Steak!

2—The Democrats Gave You Everything From Soup to Nuts; We Will Move You Back From the Nuts to the Soup!

3—Back With Republicanism From the Hatchet to the Regular Carving Knife!

5—Meat and Houses or Fish and Quips?

7—Our Promise: An Auto Twice in a Lifetime; Meat While You Still Have Your Molars!

8—Remember the Forgotten Steak!

9—Join the Republicans and See a Sirloin Without Time Payments!

10—Get Back to the Three R's . . . Republicans, Roast Beef and Rolls Royces!

I hold this truth,
And not too crushing:
You Can't Make Geneva
Out of Flushing.

Our idea about the Flushing site for a permanent world peace court is that it is all right for maneuvers but that there is not room for actual combat.

The United Nations will now have its own radio station and program. And Ima Dodd asks excitedly, "Does this mean it will broadcast all its fights?"

You can easily tell the UN radio program. It will be the one without the hair oil eulogy, the football scores or the advice to unfortunates with a radio complex. It will have just one jingle:

Five big nations,
That's a lot,
Leading in the Peace plans hot;
Under them all
Hatred melts . . .
It had better,
Kid, or else!

How not to get down to business on a day when the work is piled up chin-high, and the printers are waiting empty-handed for some copys to set for tomorrow's newspaper:

Try out the typewriter to make sure everything is in good order—now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party—read the rehashes of yesterday's political speeches, get into an argument about politics with a fellow employe;

Ask the middle initial of some obscure candidate and start a discussion of the qualifications of X as compared to the qualifications of Y to represent the peepul, mention impreachment and spend a half hour finding out how many civil officers of the United States have been impeached;

Sit down in a chair to start to work and not that the chair is too low, adjust it to the proper height, hunt up the building maintenance superintendent to borrow an oil can, return the oil can and spend five minutes washing up, get into a political discussion with someone in the washroom;

Take a telephone call from an inquisitive reader who has run across the word "uxorious" in last night's' paper and wants to know what in the blue blazes it means, look up the word and report back, remember the call you were supposed to make and spend a quarter of an hour waiting for the line to get unbusy;

Snag a fingernail on the dial trap and while fixing it with a pair of copy shears notice that nine other fingernails could stand a manicure, glance at the clock to make sure time is flying, make a resolution to quit fooling around and get busy, decide to make a trip to the drinking fountain first;

Find the fountain turned off and make a trip to some other department's fountain, get into a political discussion with one of the inmates, listen reasonably to a proposal to step next door to the greasy spoon for a cup of coffee and a crullier, hurry back because now it is really getting late;

Decide it is time to change the typewriter ribbon, spend five minutes washing up, get into a political discussion, take another telephone call, remember to call home to see if everything is under control at the fireside, listen to the good wife's report of the interruptions in Her Day.

Hang up, sit down resolutely, turn a fresh piece of paper into the typewriter, smoke a cigaret, take another telephone call, get into another political discussion, stare hazily at the fresh piece of paper for a half hour, smoke two more cigarets and finally start to work.

"How not to get down to business on a day when the work is piled up chin-high and the printers are waiting empty-handed for copy for tomorrow's newspaper":

To those who sometimes want to know how to write a column about just anything that comes to mind, this is the way it's done. Nothing to it. You should pay the boss man for the privilege.

Letters from Our Readers

AGAINST LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Editor of The Star: Since reading the sermonette Sept. 21 on "Drunkards Are Not Sinners," that there are three sides to the question—

Dear reader, there is no middle territory. We are either saved or we are not. My Bible says in Luke 16:13, "No servant can serve two masters. You can not serve God and Mammon."

Christ said he that is not with me is against Me. Now sin is sin in the sight of God. God says come out from amongst the world and be a separate people.

I have 15 reasons why I hate liquor. I have no malice toward those engaged in the liquor business but I hate the traffic. I hate every phase. I hate it for its intolerance. I hate it for its ignorance. I hate it for its hypocrisy and its pretense. I hate it for its commercialism and its greed and its avarice, for its sordid love of gain at any price. I hate it for its domination and corrupting influence and suffering it has brought to men and women and children. I hate it for its disregard for the law, for its trampling of the solemn compacts of state constitutions. I hate it for its stripes it loads on the backs of laboring men. I hate it for its human wrecks it has made. I hate it for its prisons it has filled, for the insanity it has caused, for the countless graves it has filled and for the disgrace it brings on its victims, for the crime it commits, for the homes it destroys, for the hearts it breaks, for the malice it plants in the hearts of men, for its poison, for the grief it causes women and the scalding tears, the hopes and strangled aspirations, its burdens of want and care, for its heartless cruelty to the aged and infirm and the helpless, for the dark shadows it throws upon the lives of little children.

They are the ones who suffer from this awful sinful thing called liquor. Now the Bible is the true word of God and it's time that we as Christian people get behind this awful thing and obey our Christ and teach our poor hungry and dying souls that God is the only One who can save them and cleanse them from their sins.

is as different as possible from the men who were so singularly chosen to run UNRRA. Yet he is much preoccupied by the task of selling his bonds on a favorable market, and might be concerned for this reason about mixing politics and economics. Altogether, the complexities of the task ahead are so great that Byrnes may not immediately find a way around or through them. Yet it is vitally significant that the need to find such a way is at least being mulled over.

For her wedding Miss McFarland chose a costume suit in a champagne shade with which she combined brown accessories and an orchid corsage. The maid of honor was costumed in a light blue two-piece wool crepe ensemble, with fuchsia accessories. Her corsage was orchids.

Churchill And Attlee Join in Russian Views

BY J. M. ROBERTS JR.
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the claims made in behalf of the Labor party in its 1945 campaign for control of the British government was that it would be able to get along better with Russia than could Winston Churchill's Conservatives

Now, a year and a half later, we find the Labor Prime Minister speaking bitterly of Russia's isolationism and propaganda warfare against every system except her own. Attlee, as the London dispatches point out, has taken a view very similar to that of Churchill in his famous speech at Fulton, Mo.

This cannot properly be termed a turn of events, since there never was any official indication that the Laborites would depart from traditional British foreign policy. Neither Soicalism nor Communism has yet equalled the force of nationalism. But it does serve to emphasize how far Russia has gone within a comparatively short period to antagonize non-Communist elements abroad with whom she might have been able to establish at least a modicum of cooperation.

Evident in UN Meeting

This also is evident in the vociferous campaign now being waged for elimination or modification of the veto right in the UN security council, where Russian usage has weakened the support originally given the veto idea by Britain and, particularly, the United States The latter, a reservoir of all the things which others covet, containing the industrial power which has decided two world wars and the most likely initial target for the next, has the best reasons of all for desiring to retain the veto for self-protection, United States interests are world-wide She does not wish to have outsiders vote her, willy nilly, into positions at violent variance with these interests, no matter how whole-hearted her support of the UN to that extent, the U S. position on the veto is much like that of Russia.

Intemperance Blamed

But to have one country use the veto to help establish half a world of its own, vis-a-vis the other half, was never envisioned It is such intemperance which has produced the strange picture of the United States withholding economic aid from Czechoslovakia, a country which we godfathered, of Bevin and Churchill lining up together against the veto; and of British and Conservative leaders equally exasperated over Russia

It indicates that the veto will eventually be eliminated or modified, perhaps depriving the great powers of a really needed device.

Careful observers discount the possibility that, in this event, Russia would pull out of the UN That would cause the fear already engendered by her foreign policy to become dynamically anti-Russian, something she cannot want.

Mr Molotov arrived for the assembly meeting with word that Russia was determined to work for success of the UN. He did not say whether Russia had realized that it could not be merely for the success of one of the many entities of which the UN is composed That would have meant a part of the "change" for which Mr Attlee said we must hope.

Police said the accident occurred when the Reeder car slowed down and was hit from the rear by the Patrick car. Marlow H. LOOKING somewhat worried—and with good reason—farmhand Justus L. Barker, 36, walks into Hackensack Criminal Court, N. J., where he was held for Grand Jury action on a charge of bigamy. Police say he had accumulated four wives and five children in 13 years—without any divorces.

OHIO POLITICOS TALK SCHOOLS

Teacher Shortage and New Buildings Debated by Herbert and Lausche.

By The Associated Press

Ohio's teacher shortage and the need for new school buildings and repairs to old ones held the spotlight Thursday night in gubernatorial campaigning.

At Lima, Gov. Lausche told a Democratic rally that if he were reelected he would lead "a major attack upon the problem of the schools" and increase state aid to local governmens "for building construction and repair and for the hiring of competent teachers at adequate salaries."

Lausche said he wanted his opponent, Thomas J. Herbert, to explain "how Ohio can provide more money to schools to permit higher pay for teachers if its revenues are depleted as he (Herbert) proposes."

Herbert, speaking at Ashland, declared:

"In contrast with my opponent's record of promising increased appropriations for the public schools, as a candidate, then vetoing them, as governor, the pledge of the Republican party that adequate funds will be made available to aid the public schools is backed by a performance record of having paid an inherited $18,000,000 school debt during the preceding six-year Republican administration."

In his Lima speech Lausche said his veto of a school appropriation bill was "in fact a blow for freedom of schools and all other agencies of the state from undue domination and dictation" and occurred when he found himself "in a position which required me to defend balance and fairness in the state budget."

Herbert declared that "many of the public schools would be closed in Ohio today and the activities of all the public schools would have been seriously curtailed if the Republican legislature had not passed the public school appropriation bill last year over the veto of the present governor."

"There will be a Republican legislature in Ohio next year, as there was last year," Herbert continued. "The problem of adequate financial aid to the public schools requires joint action on the part of the governor and the legislature. x x x By electing a Republican governor with a Republican legislature x x x you will see an early solution to the present critical problems of the public schools."

Herbert At Mansfield

Earlier Thursday night Herbert spoke at Mansfield, criticizing Lausche's administration as "responsible for the fact that there is not a single agency of the state government heading up the administration of veterans' affairs in Ohio today" and for being "far behind other states in the formulation of a veterans' housing program."

John W. Bricker, Republican candidate for U. S. senator, concentrated on the national debt in speeches Thursday night at Mansfield, Ashland and Bucyrus.

"The New Deal," Bricker declared, "has mortgaged the lives of our children and grandchildren for generations to come. For 14 years it has promoted a program of spend, waste, borrow and tax, and today we have a national debt approximating 300 million dollars. That means a debt of 2,200 dollars hangs over the head of every man, woman and child in the United States.

"It also means that the American people must pay nearly six billion dollars each year in interest alone x x x a sum comparable to the entire annual cost of government before the New Deal."

Huffman Scents Red Herring

With Governor Lausche in Lima, U. S. Sen. James W. Huffman, declared that his opponent, Bricker, was "dragging a red herring of Communism across his trail to cover up his connections with certain big business interests."

Bricker, Huffman said, has "no greater abhorrence of Communism and of subversive threats than I have," and added that so far as he was concerned Communism was not an issue of the campaign.

Huffman asserted that Bricker "has always kowtowed to big business and directed his energies towards the assistance of the vested interests instead of for the welfare of the underprivileged and workers and employes."

Democratic campaign committee director Clarence Knisley issued a statement in Columbus which said that Bricker "is smearing 10 Democratic candidates, nine of them war veterans, with a Communist brush."

"There is no Ohio Democratic candidate even remotely acquainted with Communism," Knisley said, adding: "Don't look now, Mr. Bricker, but that's Fascism's Gerald Smith walking beside you."

1941 Dollar Worth 69 Cents Now, U. S. Says

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Government economists said yesterday the purchasing power of the dollar dwindled to 69 cents from 1941 to mid-September, 1946, and possibly will shrink further with the freeing of food prices.

Living cost experts of the bureau of labor statistics estimated the dollar's purchasing power may go down another cent or so on the basis of mid-October consumer cost figures, now being calculated.

However, they said some prices will drop after initial upward flurries following decontrol and this may halt the decline of dollar values.

EXTRA MEAT ACQUIRED

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDENSEN, M.D.

Muscle Damage

Muscle damage, which could easily be relieved by massage, is frequently at the root of many aches and pains which are mistakenly assigned to more serious causes.

This, at any rate, is the opinion of Dr Harold D Storms of Canada, who believes that unnoticed muscle strain is responsible for many supposed cases of nerve inflammation, sciatica and disease of the lower part of the spine

The woman for instance, who finds it a hard to raise her arm sufficiently to comb her hair is very likely to believe that she is suffering from neuritis According to Dr Storms she is much more apt to have torn some muscle fibers pulling or tugging at a heavy object of furniture She may have felt some little pain at the time without thinking much of it Later when the pain becomes more or less constant—due perhaps to other even more trivial strains of the damaged area—she has forgotten all about the earlier strain

The point is says Dr Storms that at the time of the first strain the muscle was injured and it will continue to be painful from time to time until treated by massage

Often when a muscle, or some of its fibers are torn by too-sudden or too-great a pull there is pain, swelling and inflammation The muscle reacts by going into spasm—that is it contracts knots-up and becomes tense and hard This may last for hours, days, weeks months or even, years If it remains for a long period, the part of the muscle affected becomes permanently damaged its elastic fibers being replaced by in-elastic scar tissue

A common injury of this type is what is known to athletes as a "charlie horse" Such a condition is usually quickly relieved by the trainer who feels around with his fingers until he finds the spasm in the affected muscle and kneads it out with massage

In just the same way Dr Storms believes that many people who suffer from backache, pain in the arm and leg muscles painful feet or headaches affecting the back part of the head, owe their troubles to unrelieved muscle spasm, which could be successfully treated by proper massage in most cases In fact, he sees in this the chief value of massage Of course, it may also be used to improve the circulation and for its soothing effects

Halloween Hi-Jinks

HOBGOBLIN APPLES . For Halloween fun. . . .

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

There's no holiday that's more the children's own than Halloween Always they should have costumes, a little spookiness—though never enough to really frighten them—and always, if possible, they should have a party

A Halloween party can be very simple and still be great fun Give them something good to eat, by their standards—not elaborate by yours Decorate everything in truly Halloween fashion Have things arranged so that no damage can be done, and let the young go their own gait.

Hobgoblin Apples Allow one large apple for each guest Cut off top, remove core, and hollow out apple, leaving shell about ½ inch thick Chop portion of apple removed, combine with raisins or small seedless grapes, walnut meats and mayonnaise With a small sharp knife, draw triangular eyes, nose and a half-moon mouth on side of apple, cutting deeply enough so that peel can be removed. Replace peel with cream cheese Stuff apple with chopped fruit and nut mixture, and replace top as hat.

Magic Cauldron Use a large preserving kettle or a pail for the cauldron. If desired, cover with orange or dark green crepe paper Make three "logs" of rolled newspaper and cover with brown crepe paper Arrange logs in a triangle Place a low dish upside down in center, on which cauldron can actually rest

Fill cauldron with bottles of soft drinks, and surround with ice cubes or cracked ice If bottles are well-chilled in advance, ice can be omitted and cauldron can be stuffed with just enough tissue paper to hold bottles in place Against the side of the Magic Cauldron, stand a small "witch's broom" (you can make one by attaching a rolled paper handle to a clean whisk broom) Have extra bottles of soft drinks in the refrigerator so that the cauldron can be kept full.

Ghost Hot Dogs. Allow one or two frankfurters for each guest, and an equal number of slices of bread with crusts removed Spread each slice of bread lightly with prepared mustard. Place frankfurter on edge of slice and roll up so that bread forms a blanket around the frankfurter Secure with a toothpick Brush outside of bread with melted butter. Bake in 400 degree oven for twenty minutes Before serving, remove toothpick and roll in a white paper napkin folded the width of the bread blanket The tips of the hot dogs will show at each end

Spook Sandwiches Cut rounds from slices of bread with cookie cutter Cut eyes, nose and mouth in half the rounds, using small sharp-pointed scissors Spread remaining rounds of bread with softened butter and jelly, and top with "face"

And for dessert? With sugar so scarce, it's something of a problem "Boughten" doughnuts may solve the problem If you have any sugar do make some ginger or molasses cookies in cat and witch and other appropriate shapes. The youngsters will enjoy helping with that. You might serve chocolate ice cream with orange sauce over it for a color scheme appropriate to the occasion In any event, be sure they have a fine, hilarious, spooky time

GALION MAN JAILED ON ASSAULT CHARGE

Special to The Star

GALION, Oct. 25 — Bound over to the Crawford county grand jury on two charges, John Schill, 39, proprietor of the Safety Cab, Public Square, is being held in city jail today.

Schill was placed under bond of $500 on a charge of breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling in the night season to commit a felony, and on a charge of assault with intent to kill Bond was set at $2,000 on the second charge. Both charges were brought by his former wife, Mrs. Thelma Schill of 341 North Market street.

Schill appeared before Mayor William Amann Thursday afternoon, where he was accused of striking Mrs. Schul with a shotgun after breaking into her home early Thursday morning

On a call to the residence of Mrs Schill at 1 15 a m. Thursday, police found the accused man in her bedroom with a 12-gauge shotgun

The 12-year-old daughter of the couple, Judy, said she heard her mother threatened and ran to a neighbor's house for help In her hurry she fell over a wheel-barrow, breaking both bones in her right forearm

Police said they found Schill in an intoxicated condition and took him to city jail. The shotgun had been emptied of its shells which were found on the dresser. Mrs. Schill was bleeding at the left ear which had been torn by a blow from the barrel of the gun, and she also had been struck in the groin by the butt of the gun, police said. She told police officers that she had seen her former husband early Wednesday afternoon. She went to the offices of the Northern Ohio Telephone Co where she is employed as an operator and after work she dined in Bucyrus Shortly after midnight she said Schill telephoned the house and spoke to Mrs. Schill's mother, Mrs Turner, insisting that his former wife talk to him. Mr Schill was reported to have entered the house through a bathroom window and struck his former wife with the gun, according to the police report.

The couple are the parents of three children. They were divorced a year ago last July, and their recent disagreement was over the custody of the children, police reported.

STOCKS DROOP AS EARLY RALLY FAILS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Stocks generally wilted in today's market after an early rallying attempt failed to attract adherents. Brokers attributed light liquidation to labor disputes, highlighted by the threat of a coal walkout, and predictions of widespread strikes after the election.

Pfizer and Douglas Aircraft enjoyed a morning bulge on a jump in profits for the former and an additional disbursement for the latter. General Electric stumbled on a disappointing earnings release.

Conspicuous on the offside were American Telephone, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, General Motors, Goodyear, Woolworth, International Harvester, Anaconda, Du Pont, Union Carbide and C.I.T. financial.

Army, Navy To Have Single Buying Agent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—One phase of Army-Navy merger is a reality today with the disclosure that President Truman has put all armed forces' buying under a single and final authority.

Army officials immediately hailed the move privately as "the best practicable solution" short of actual unification.

Bitterly opposed by the Navy, full-scale merger would require congressional action.

In that direction, the President already has indicated he will renew his recommendation for a single department combining the Army, Navy and air forces when the lawmakers reconvene in January.

The new chief of Army-Navy purchasing is a civilian, Richard R. Deupree, executive chairman of the Army-Navy munitions board and in private life president of Proctor and Gamble Co.

HARDING DROPS 12 TO 7 HEARTBREAKER TO ASHLAND

Prexy Defense Collapses In Final Moments As A's Win

By GEORGE ROEST

In losing a heartbreaker to Ashland 12 to 7 last night at Harding stadium, the Presidents proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that they would still be the ruling squad in the extinct N.C.O. Approximately 1,800 saw two traditional rivals, both graduates of the conference in which they were continuously leaders, engage in a grueling struggle never decided until the final minute of the game.

Although going into this game with the odds heavily against them, Harding's spectacular playing dominated the contest throughout its first 42 and one-half minutes, Ashland seizing on a break late in the contest and going from their own 29 to the Chief Executives' goal via the airways.

Left end Drebus took a pass from quarterback Harpster in the vicinity of the Marion 40 and scooted to the 27 before being dragged down. After several plays, Harpster tossed one to Strine that was good to the Marion 6. Dick Burns plunged to the three and Norm Firebaugh found a hole in the left side of the Prexy line for the winning score.

Harding Drives 90 Yards

Harding's score was set up when, in the first period, quarterback Jim Rea pulled down one of Harpster's passes on his own 12. The Ashland line was torn to shreds, Prexy backs finding holes that enabled them to drive 90 yards for a score.

Howard Tillis sparked the drive making gains of 17 and 13 yards while both Jim Rea and Jim Hill reeled off several gains of nine and 10 yards. Dick Huddle plunged from the four to a point where only a slight penetration was needed for a score. Rea did the honors on a quarterback sneak, going into the end zone with yardage to spare in the second quarter. Dick Huddle's placement sailed straight and true between the uprights.

Ashland made its first T.D. largely through the efforts of Harpster. After intercepting a pass on his own 45 and getting to the 49 he set up the tally, heaving one 29 yards to Strine on the Prexy 16. Johns started on a left end sweep and tossed one to Drebus for 17 yards and six points. Both of fullback Hurst's attempts at placement failed.

Prexies Can Figure

Although being on the short end of the score, Harding was way out in front in the statistical department, running up 19 first downs against nine for the visitors and netting 252 yards from scrimmage against 100 for Ashland. In the air Ashland gained 118 yards while the Prexy gain was a mere five yards. This gives the Chief Execs a total net of 257 yards against 218 for the A's.

The Presidents' forward wall, Andrews, Hoffman, Nolff, Duer, Cline, Zeisler, Herb Phillians and Bob Ralston, although he did not start, performed outstandingly in holding the Ashland scat backs to small gains and opening holes in the Ashland defense.

Winning the toss, Harding chose to receive, Ashland defending the south goal. Tillis picked up 40 yards running back Hurst's kick-off to the 50. Hill lost two. A sleeper play, Rea passing to Phillians, was unsuccessful. Tillis got three and Ashland gained possession of the ball on their own 47. In three tries Ashland was able to gain only five yards, Firebaugh punting to Coss on the

SELLOUT CROWD TO SEE OSU-MINNESOTA

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25 — A sellout crowd of 76,000—largest ever to see an Ohio State-Minnesota game—will pack Ohio Stadium Saturday to watch the Bucks try for their first victory in three starts on their home gridiron and their initial Western Conference triumph.

The Gophers, heaviest team in the conference and also trying for their first Big Nine victory, will be a slight favorite of the experts—casting Ohio State in an underdog role for the first time this season.

Coach Bernie Bierman's squad was due in Dayton today and had a workout scheduled for this afternoon at the University of Dayton field. They will spend the night at Dayton.

Ohio State had a brief 20-minute drill on tap for today after working only an hour yesterday—mostly on defense. Coach Paul Bixler used George Spencer of Bexley at quarterback again, an indication that Spencer probably will start at that spot in place of Bill Doolittle.

Fremont St. Joseph Battles Carey to Tie

Special to The Star

CAREY—Fremont St. Joseph last night at Carey overcame an early lead of Carey's scoring in the last quarter to gain a 7 to 7 tie with that previously undefeated and untied club.

Wedge scored for Carey in the first period going through the center of the line for eight yards. Donelson faked a kick and Yingling passed to Dennison for the point.

Fremont's passing combination of Swint to Hipp was one of the best witnessed by Carey spectators this season, Hipp snagging one from the six for the score. A substitute back Freeh plunged for the point.

For Carey, Wenner and Strahm were outstanding on the line while Wedge and Donelson performed capably in the backfield.

TAKES TEAM OFF FIELD

By The Associated Press

WELLSVILLE, O., Oct. 25 — Coach Mearle Atkins of Wellsville High school took his football team off the field in the third quarter of a game with Mingo Junction here last night after Referee Steve Maslanik of Ambridge, Pa., had ejected a player from each team for unnecessary roughness. Maslanik awarded the game to Mingo Junction, which was leading 35-0.

Forecaster Thinks Irish Luck Will Hold Against Iowa Team

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

Associated Press Sports Forecaster

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 — Notre Dame customarily has no more luck visiting Iowa City on a football mission than this forecaster has with his weekly predictions. This time, however, the Irish should chalk up their first triumph in the Hawkeye state—and here's hoping they have strength to knock off a double-barreled jinx.

Three times in the past the Irish have invaded Iowa City with unbeaten teams, as they will again this weekend. And three times an underdog Iowa eleven has triumphed.

Other Selections

Army over Duke: Duke is the team Coach Earl Blaik of Army feared above all others as the season started. Last week's 41 to 0 victory by the Southerners over previously unbeaten Richmond has done nothing to ease his worries. However, all of Army's regulars, including Arnold Tucker, are healed.

Southern California over Stanford: The Trojans apparently came to a week ago in their 28 to 0 win over Washington but don't be surprised if only three-points separate the two Saturday with Southern California out in front.

Tennessee over Wake Forest: Unless the Vols are dreaming too much about their 12 to 0 victory over Alabama last week they should have little difficulty.

Texas over Rice: One of the country's great teams meets a good club. Bobby Layne and his cohorts to get back in their terrific stride.

Harvard over Holy Cross: This is the time that a stubborn defense will prove the better offense. Harvard.

Penn over Navy: Tony Minisi spurred the Middies to a close win over the Quakers a year ago but this time he is wearing a Penn uniform—and will be on the winning side again.

Ohio State over Minnesota: It has been a long time since a Minnesota team has gone into a Big Nine fray pointing, with pride, to its aerial attack. It won't be enough.

California over Washington: For the second straight Saturday the Huskies will see more of the state of California than they desire.

Michigan over Illinois: The Illini haven't beaten Michigan since they upset Tom Harmon and company in 1939. They'll have to wait another year at least.

Missouri over Southern Methodist: Since that first game, against Texas, Missouri has traveled forward every week despite a long injury list.

Skipping Over Rest

Friday: San Jose State over Brigham Young, Miami over Chattanooga, Detroit over Drake, Boston College over Villanova, Geneva over Carnegie Tech.

Saturday: East—Delaware over Drexel, New York over Gettysburg, Penn State over Colgate, Wesleyan over Amherst, Brown over Boston University, Yale over Coast Guard, Syracuse over West Virginia, Rutgers over George Washington, Columbia over Dartmouth.

Midwest—Indiana over Nebraska, Northwestern over College of Pacific, Purdue over Pittsburgh, Michigan State of Cincinnati, Marquette over Arizona, Oklahoma over Iowa State.

200 WILL MAKE BID FOR BUCK CAGE FIVE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25.—William (Tippy) Dye, former Buckeye football, basketball and baseball great who has succeeded Harold G. Olsen as Ohio State university basketball mentor, will greet nearly 200 candidates next Monday when the cagers begin their fall drills in the gymnasium.

The squad will continue to practice there daily until mid-November when they will switch to the State Fairgrounds Coliseum, their prewar home.

Following the gridders' pattern, Dye will divide his players into a varsity unit of 15 and a J.-V squad of 30 to 35 after the final cut has been made.

Upon completion of football season Dye will have Floyd Stahl and Jack Graf helping him. Graf, erstwhile Buck footballer and basketballer, will coach the juniors. Stahl, who returned to Ohio State this fall after a seven-year stint at Harvard as head basketball and baseball coach, will assist Dye with the varsity. Before going to Harvard, Stahl was head baseball coach and assistant basketball coach to Olsen.

CENTRAL GRIDDERS WHIP BEXLEY 20-14

Central's junior gridders went out of town yesterday afternoon to be scored on but twice came from behind, finally downing Bexley 20 to 14.

The junior high squad which has not been scored on in inter-city competition, jumped to an early lead, driving 70 yards from the kick-off to score. Hypes went over from two yards out and Spearos failed the try for point.

Bexley's first tally came in the second quarter when 60 yard end sweep put them on the Central one. In three attempts the Capital City gridders scored and their point after came as the result of a sweeper.

The Marion up-towners drove 50 yards to the 17 and Leffler received a pass in the end zone for the marker. Hypes went off tackle for the extra point.

Bexley once again went out ahead sweeping around end for 70 yards and a score. Their extra point was made on another sweeper.

In the final quarter Central drove 70 yards to within one yard of the Bexley goal, losing the ball on a fumble. Bexley kicked to the Marion 35 and Williams passed to Barrett for the score. Williams made the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

Although the Bexley gridders outweighed the Marion team Central outplayed them, gaining 15 first downs against three for the hosts and completing four out of an attempted six passes for 75 yards two resulting in touchdowns.

The line up for Central was Bechtel le, Messinger lt, L. Williams lg, Daum c, Seckel rg, Geran rt, Hoffman re, J. Williams qb, Hypes lh, Leffler rh, and Speros fb. Line subs for Central were: Sullivan, Barrett, Slob, Thomas and Bomas. Backs were: Wolfe, Foreman and Castanian.

St. Mary and St. Rose Both Enter Tilt with Revised Lineup

Both teams clashing tonight at the stadium will be the product of much revamping because of injuries and unsuccessful combinations in past games. St. Mary meets Lima St. Rose and the game is scheduled to start at 8:15.

The Marion Irish in their last two games were closely decisioned and tonight will be attempting to see if they can get Lady Luck to play on their side. If it's the luck of the Irish to be counted on the teams should be evenly matched in that department.

In the meantime to allow for that difference between the breaks and the ball game, Coach Fetter is stressing a passing attack for tonight's game and is working on defense.

Saints Weakened

Lima St. Rose will be weakened because of the loss of their two regular ends and for once the Marion Irish may be at full strength.

Fullback John Baldauf who was not expected to see action for the remainder of the season looks as if he may be in shape to go against the Lima squad and if he is, this will be one of the first times since the start of the season that Marion's parochials have been able to put in their complete lineup of starters.

If he is not ready to go Walter Anderson will play at the line bucking post. Dick Schuler will be the man under center and Ed Murphy, who has been playing fullback, is being moved to halfback.

Lima's record this year of five wins against one defeat is much better than the Marion record of two victories, three losses and a draw. On this basis Lima will be installed as the favorite, however St. Mary has plenty of potential power which should keep them in the ball game for the full 48 minutes and possibly give them a win. This is not a mid-state league contest, St. Mary having only Mt. Gilead to play yet in the league.

Probable Lineups.

Probable starting lineup for the Irish will be: ends, undecided among Tobin, Drake, Huber and T. Wagner; tackles, J. Wagner and Moloney; guards, Maniaci and Norris; center, D. Smith. In the backfield Schuler will be at quarterback, Murphy and Stuber will be at the halves, and either Baldauf or Anderson will play fullback.

The probable starting line up for St. Rose will be: Ross and O'Connor at the ends, Korn and Evans at the tackles, Hawk and Cygan at the guards, Goedde at center, Mulcahy will be the quarterback, Delvin and Zarro will run as halfs and Callahan will be the line bucker.

Football Forecaster Sees Ohio State Beating Minnesota by One TD

Figures Buckeyes Have Fewer Ailments Than Minnesota

By DON STULL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25—That psychoanalyst hasn't caught up with us yet, so here we go again, trying to tell the reading public who's gonna win this week's big college football games.

We invited a visit from the mental medico last week in picking Ohio's four unbeaten, untied foes to fall. Three did. The fourth, Defiance, crossed us up with a 7-6 victory over Findlay. That might have been enough for a good bill of health—if the mental man failed to notice how we picked the rest of the 21-game program. We tagged only six winners correctly, missing 12, to lower our season batting average to a paltry .606—or 51 right in 84 stabs.

Give It Another Go

So, with a quick glance over our shoulder to make sure the Heisman sawbones isn't around, we'll give it another go, tackling first off the biggest pigskin puzzler in the state, to wit:

"What's wrong with Ohio State?" Our answer: not as much as is wrong with Minnesota, and the Bucks should take 'em by a touchdown at least.

Since Defiance got over the Findlay hurdle, we figure they've got enough to chalk up victory No. 4 against Lawrence Tech of Detroit, which has lost one and tied one with other Buckeye opponents.

Kenyon's Lords, four of whom were charged with staging an impromptu scrimmage on a dance floor earlier this week, also figure to extend their streak—a row of defeats stretching back into the 1943 season. The Lords play Capital, losers of four straight this season. Someone almost has to win. We like Capital.

In one of the top contests on this week's 24-game slate, Miami's Rediskins, conquered only by Purdue, figure to be too classy for Ohio university's once-beaten Bobcats.

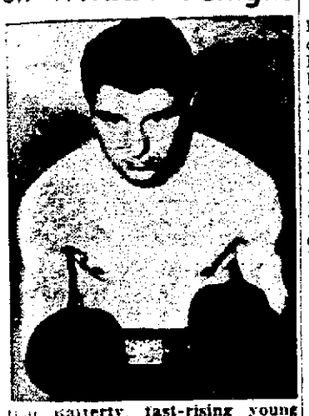
Buckeye prestige among out-of-state competitors seems due for another boost when Cincinnati takes on Michigan State at Lansing. Cincy should grab its fifth triumph in six starts without much trouble.

Bowling Green and Findlay also should help boost Buckeye stock today the Bee-Gees tangle with Canisius at Buffalo and Findlay entertains Adrian, Mich.

In Saturday clashes, it looks like: Toledo over Akron; Ashland decidedly better than Hiram; Baldwin-Wallace over Kent State, but close; Wilberforce on another scoring spree over Tennessee State; Mount Union to swamp victoryless Case; Ohio Northern over Bluffton; Cedarville to top Xavier's "B" squad; Oberlin to start another victory string at the expense of Denison; Wittenberg over Heidelberg; Muskingum over Wooster; Ohio Wesleyan over DePauw; Arkansas State over Xavier; Youngstown over Lebanon Valley, and Marietta over Wilmington.

John Carroll plays a Sunday game with Niagara at Niagara Falls, N. Y., but it doesn't look like much of a honeymoon jaunt for the Jay-Cees—Niagara.

Lightweight Bout on WMRN Tonight



Dan Rafferty, fast-rising young scrapper from Milwaukee, faces the acid test when he tangles with spectacular Billy Graham (above) of New York's East Side in Manhattan tonight. This lightweight event, scheduled to go ten rounds, will be aired over ABC.

Rafferty, who has defeated Juste Fontaine, Joey Archibald, Guy Serean and others, is considered a real sharpshooter in Midwestern rings where he has scored 20 KO's in 48 fights. He has a good left hand but his best punch is his straight right cross.

Billy Graham, stable-mate of Rocky Graziano, has lost only two fights out of 65—both of these to Tony Pellone. He is a crafty boxer who punches hard and fast with either hand.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and WMRN (1490 on your dial.)

And remember men . . . LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

GALION UPSET BY BELLEVUE 14 TO 7

GALION, Oct. 25—An upset in the Northern Ohio league occurred on Heise park field, here, Thursday night, when the bottom-rung Bellevue High school Redmen defeated Galion High school Tigers 14-7, before a comparatively small crowd of football fans. It was Bellevue's first victory in seven games. The Galion team has won three out of seven.

Probably uninspired by the record of the visitors, Coach Ed Rannow's team of Galion High gridders appeared in a listless manner. The first quarter of the game was scoreless, then Bellevue recovered a Galion lateral pass on Galion's one-yard line. Todd recovered on Galion's one-yard line and Shelley took it across on the second play from the one-foot line. Bruckner made the extra point. This closed the second quarter 7-0 in favor of the visitors.

After the half, Galion took the kick-off and marched down the field for a touchdown, Price running 17 yards to tie the score when Riter made the extra point. The Redmen came right back and took the kick-off and marched 68 yards, Shelley taking it from the six-inch line. Bruckner again made the extra point. The final quarter was scoreless.

FOOTBALL SEASON AT HALF-WAY MARK

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Racing with surprising rapidity toward the day when sectional champions and bowl opponents will be determined, the college football season reaches the halfway mark this week-end with the more important attractions distributed equitably throughout the land.

In the east, midwest and southwest the three outstanding candidates for national honors—Army, Notre Dame and Texas—will be risking their perfect records tomorrow against what easily could be the toughest opposition any of them has been called upon to face this year.

Army's Black Knights, bent on running their three-year victory string to an even two dozen, collide in the Polo Grounds here with a Duke team that while batting only .500 in four games, now is clicking with new found power and pointing for an upset.

Notre Dame, meanwhile, moves into Iowa City, where the Irish never have won, to battle Iowa's Hawkeyes, the team that slipped a 13-0 stranglehold on Indiana last week while Notre Dame was taking a rest.

At Houston, Tex., a Rice team rated as the only outfit in the Southwest conference capable of spoiling Texas' bid for the league crown will challenge the invading Longhorns.

In the south, Tennessee, rated the fourth best eleven in the land after its defeat of Alabama, tangles at Knoxville with Wake Forest, which only last week suffered its first loss. Georgia, ranked seventh, visits Furman and Florida will be at North Carolina, which holds the No. 10 spot.

UCLA, top team on the Pacific coast and fifth in the nation, will step out of conference play to entertain Santa Clara, but within the loop Southern California will go to Stanford to see which remains the outstanding challenger of the Bruins.

At Philadelphia, powerful Pennsylvania, the country's No. 6 team, meets a Navy crew that has been beaten three times running but still has ideas of knocking off some of the big boys.

Two Big Nine tilts destined to share the spotlight with the Notre Dame-Iowa tussle in the Midwest will find Illinois at Michigan and Minnesota at Ohio State.

Topping tonight's program, Texas Christian will be at Oklahoma A. and M., Villanova at Boston College, Drake at Detroit and Chattanooga at Miami (Fla.)

266,093 See First 4 Ohio State Games

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25.—The 76,025 fans who flocked into Ohio stadium last Saturday to see the Bucks tie Purdue boosted the attendance figures for the first four games to 266,093, compared to the 233,961 in 1945 when a new season attendance record was set.

The huge gathering was the fourth largest stadium crowd in history and was tops over the nation last week. The three high Ohio stadium crowds have been Michigan, 1926 (90,437); Notre Dame, 1935 (81,018); Illinois, 1925 (78,845).

HERE IS ONE OF THE BATTLING BISHOP backfields expected to see action Saturday when Ohio Wesleyan faces DePauw university at Selby stadium, Delaware. Tom Dye, Clint Stevenson, Tony McCleery and Bob Leech comprise the backfield shown. Dye and McCleery are from Delaware. Coach George Gauthier promises to juggle his backfield around considerably in the game because of injuries and in the hope of gaining experience for some of his reserve backs.

eight for a 10-yard runback to the Prexy 18.

Marion lost to the 13 in three attempts and was forced to make their only punt of the contest. Tillis punted 30 yards and out of bounds.

A try by Firebaugh netted nothing and Ashland was penalized to the 48 for being offside making it still first down and with 15 yards to go. Firebaugh picked up 15 and got to the Marion 33 after losing one. Trying twice, Hurst lost three.

Rea intercepted Harpster's pass on the 10. Huddle lost a yard. Hill got 10, Rea picking up five and a first down. Tillis picked his hole and exhibited some fancy stepping in going to the 40. Rea lateraled to Hill who got nine. Hill failed in an attempt for a first down and Huddle got two.

Tillis, Huddle and Tillis again, got to the Ashland 27. Tillis' second run came as the first play of the second quarter.

A five yard penalty against

Harding Scores

Harding did not put a damper on their chances of scoring. It was first and 12 but Rea picked up 11, Tillis got five and Huddle was downed within inches of the goal. Rea scored and Huddle converted.

After receiving the kickoff Ashland was able to pick up one first down, starting on their 27. Firebaugh punted out from the Ashland 41 to the Marion 24.

The Prexies drove to the Ashland 44 but a penalty for backs in motion put them back on their own 48.

Harpster intercepted Rea's pass on the 45 getting four yards before being stopped. Johns got three and Harpster passed to Strine who got to the Prexy 18. Firebaugh picked up one and Johns passed to Drebus for a touchdown. Hurst's attempted placement was blocked.

Hurst kicked to Bishop on the 13 for a run to the Marion 31, the half ending with Marion in enemy territory on the 13.

Marion Gets 5 First

The third quarter saw Marion picking up five firsts against Ashland's two. Rea's pass from the Marion 42 was intercepted on the Ashland 33 by Harpster and run to the Marion 49. Hoffman tackled Glasser causing him to fumble, Huddle recovering on his own 49. Harding had driven to the 16 and third and 12 when the quarter ended.

The Ashland defenses stiffened, Ashland getting the ball on their seven. The A's lost two and Harpster passed from his own end zone to Strine on the Ashland 15. Firebaugh punted to Rea on the Marion 24.

Harding drove to the Ashland 17, making five straight first downs. Bishop fumbled Rea's lateral and Harpster recovered on the 29. Zeisler partially blocked Harpster's pass. Harpster passed to Drebus who got to the Prexy 27. With less than a minute to go Firebaugh went over from the three.

Alonzo Stagg Brings Grid Team Back To Chicago Field

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Oct. 25—There was a football team on the University of Chicago's Stagg field yesterday, but it was not a Maroon team. It was grizzled Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg's college of the Pacific squad which worked out in preparation for the game with Northwestern at Dyche stadium tomorrow.

Two Western conference games will be played tomorrow and four conference teams meet non-league opponents. The eyes of many older Midwestern fans, however, who remember Stagg's great teams on the Midway before he was retired in 1932, will be on the Northwestern-College of the Pacific encounter.

An overflow crowd of 85,938 persons will jam Michigan's stadium to watch the Wolverines in their homecoming battle with Illinois. In the other Big Nine game, Minnesota tackles Ohio State at Columbus.

Non Conference Games

Non-conference games, in addition to the Northwestern-College of the Pacific contest, match Indiana at Nebraska, Purdue at Pittsburgh, and Notre Dame at Iowa. Wisconsin is idle this weekend.

After Stagg's team worked out on the Midway where he coached Maroon teams for 41 years, he said only one player on Pacific's 38-man squad would be unable to play tomorrow. The squad was to hold a brief workout at Dyche stadium today.

Meanwhile, Northwestern's squad went through its last heavy drill and concentrated on offensive pass plays. Coach Lynn Waldorf said he planned to use his first team sparingly Saturday unless Pacific shows unexpected strength.

Around other Big Nine camps:

Illinois—Coach Ray Eliot's 38-man squad departed for Ann Arbor yesterday . . . Eliot said Lou Egase will start in place of tackle Mike Kasap, who suffered a fractured finger in the Wisconsin game . . . Captain MacWenakumas will be back at center after missing two games because of injuries.

Wolverines Set

Michigan—The Wolverines concluded intensive drills for the Illini invasion with emphasis on defensive measures designed to halt the ground attack of Julie Rykovich, and Buddy Young and the passes of Rykovich and Perry Moss . . . Ticket Manager Andrew C. Baker announced that all 85,938 tickets have been sold for the homecoming game.

Ohio State — The Buckeyes worked out for only an hour yesterday on checking defenses for the Minnesota contest before a sellout crowd of 76,000 . . . Coach Paul Bixler apparently decided on George Spencer over Bill Doolittle at quarterback. Spencer worked as signal-caller with the first stringers.

ALONZO STAGG
Brings Team Back to Midway

Minnesota — Twenty-nine first year players were among the 40-man Gopher squad which left Minneapolis yesterday for Columbus . . . The squad was due to work out today on the University of Dayton's field before leaving for Columbus tomorrow morning . . . The Gophers left seven injured players in Minneapolis.

Hawkeyes Prepare

Iowa—The Hawkeyes added the final touches to their offensive for their battle with unbeaten Notre Dame . . . For the fourth straight day drills were largely geared to producing yardage and touchdown. The practice field was muddy because of an all-day rain.

Indiana—The Hoosiers' 38-man squad left yesterday for Lincoln, but veteran Harry Jagade, fullback, and tackle Frank Colli did not make the trip because of injuries . . . Left end Abe Addams snared several passes in the final drill and said he didn't think his broken finger would hamper his play against Nebraska.

Purdue—A squad of 136 Boilermakers was set to entrain for Pittsburgh today. Left halfback Kenny Smock was left behind because of an ankle injury . . . Coach Cecil Isbell said that freshman Harry Szulborski probably would open at the left half spot.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I LOOKED at Harry Underwood in stark amazement as he made his abrupt request.

"No, I haven't gone nutty," he said. "It's only that ever since Lil heard about the Brixtons being in the hideaway, and that they would be coming out here, she's been distinctly jittery

"But she isn't a circumstance to Marion" he went on "That child's as near a nervous breakdown as she can be and not collapse But why, Madge, why?"

His voice was filled with the anguished terror of a father when some unknown danger threatens his child, and I felt a warm upsurge of affectionate approval for the big man who could not love Marion more I am sure, if she were his own flesh and blood, instead of being his step daughter

Something Else

There was something else in my consciousness however the vague uneasiness I had felt at various chance remarks of Lillian's—nothing definite but revealing her inward uneasiness to me I have conjugated her emotional moods and tenses for too many years not to know when she is sorely disturbed

And now Harry had put a clue in my hands The nervous upset of both Lillian and Marion was linked in some manner with the Brixtons

I felt a "pricking of my thumbs" I guessed that Lillian did not know what lay beneath Marion's uneasiness, but I was sure that Marion's nervousness was linked to the suitcase and the papers which Samuel Brixton had mailed to her for safe-keeping when he had been threatened by his old associates

For a moment I hesitated I wondered how much my father had told Harry of his beloved stepdaughter's quixotic aid of Samuel Brixton Then my spine stiffened with the conviction that no one could better handle any problem concerning Lillian and Marion than this sapient, stalwart, yet gentle giant.

"You've called it by the right name," I said "It is a mess and a particularly unsavory one How much do you know about it?"

He looked at me steadily.

"I don't know," he said. "Marion has said nothing at all. Lil hasn't opened her heart to any extent either, while your father—I haven't talked to him of course, except by telephone, and he didn't say much of anything

Unknown Reason

"I've gathered, of course," he went on, "that Sam is being guarded from gangsters, stemming from his old unsavory associations in the Orient, and that the Chief wants him to come face to face with Hugh Grantland and Lee Chow, for some unfathomable reason.

"But I haven't any of the real meat of the thing," he went on, "and I'd sure like to find out 'what all the shootin's fer'"

"You're going to," I told him with sudden determination "But, I warn you, it will take some little time"

"We have as long as those guards take to feed their faces," he said "And combining their chronically hollow condition with the good food Katie is cramming down their gullets, I'm sure you'll be able to bring me up to date But sit down. There's no virtue in standing"

He drew up an arm chair for me, and put me into it with the delightful ceremonial courtesy which is always his Then he drew up another chair opposite me, and leaned forward with flattering attention.

"I am all ears," he said

"I'll begin at the beginning," I told him, smiling

"That's what I want," he said and without further ado I plunged into the story of my visit to the Underwood home with "Mr. K" for the mail Lillian had asked me to pick up for her.

I told him of our discovery that someone was in the house and of my recognition of Marion's perfume Then I narrated my discovery of Marion hidden in his secret radio room, of the telephone message from Samuel Brixton, and of its tragic interruption

"My God!" he said as I paused "That poor kid! And that old devil piled it all on her!"
